RE: Site Inspection, American Stone, Rosebud Quarry, S/003/026, Box Elder County, Utah

Date of Inspection: June 5, 1996
Time of Inspection: 4:00 p.m.
Conditions: Clear, warm, light breeze
Participants: Mike Ford, BLM; Lynn Kunzler, DOGM

Purpose of Inspection: To evaluate the status of the site while in the area and to acquaint BLM representative with the site

The purpose of this inspection was that Mike Ford wanted to take a look at this site to become acquainted with the location, being as that he will be the BLM representative for this site. He also wanted to look at the question of making a community pit in this area and how it would tie in or affect Lon's quarry.

As we arrived on site there were things that immediately came to my attention: 1) there was no pallets of stone, everything had been hauled off. 2) there was no pallets or broken pallets, wire, or debris lying around. Everything had been cleaned up. 3) most of the pits have been backfilled and a lot of regrading had taken place. The topsoil pile and some of the pads are still intact and the topsoil needs to be respread. Some of the pads need ripped and seeded before reclamation could be considered complete. No equipment was observed on site. The only evidence that there was ever a stone quarry here was that there was still a little tiny bit of backfilling that needed to be done and that the area was void of vegetation where the quarries had been. It looks like Lon is getting ready to pull out and be done with this site.
